Special Issue Call for Papers from the GBFR “Sustainability and Development of Hospitality and Tourism Industry”

Aims and Scope

The Global Business and Finance Review (GBFR) is a high quality, open access, and peer-reviewed journal. The GBFR is indexed in SCOPUS, KCI, EBSCO, Infobase Index, Scientific Indexing Services, and International Institute of Organized Research (I2OR).

The importance of tourism sector as an engine of economic development and as a tool for improving the quality of life of societies is repeatedly referred by researchers, practitioners and politicians alike. Despite this undisputed fact, there are several alerts for the possibility of an uncontrolled and non-sustainable development of the tourism activity. In this context, the need for establishing new processes and practices for sustainable development of tourism industry is clear.

The GBFR special issue devoted to “Sustainability and Development of Hospitality and Tourism Industry” welcomes empirical (qualitative and quantitative) and conceptual articles, including literature reviews covering various topics related to sustainable tourism development principles and practices. Its coverage includes, but is not restricted to:

- Corporate social responsibility in hospitality industry
- Destination management and its role in sustainable tourism development
- Economic, social, cultural or environmental aspects of sustainable tourism
- Green management practices in hospitality industry
- New trends in sustainable development of tourism industry
- Relationships between tourism and sustainable development
- Stakeholder management
- Sustainability challenges for travel & tourism sector
- Sustainability in hospitality and tourism education
- Sustainability management systems in hospitality industry
- Sustainable forms of tourism
- Sustainable tourism management practices

If you have unpublished papers in hand and have the idea of making our journal a vehicle for your research interests, please feel free to submit your manuscripts today.

Exceptional Benefits

1. FINANCIAL SUPPORT FOR INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

Authors who published papers to GBFR will get partial financial support on registration fee in the annual World Conference on Business and Management (WCBM). Please refer to conference website: <http://wcbm.pngba.org/>

2. FASTER EVALUATION PROCESS

Feedback will be given normally within 8 weeks from GBFR editorial board once papers are submitted.

3. OPEN ACCESS JOURNAL

One key request of researchers across the world is unrestricted access to research publications. Open access gives a worldwide audience larger than that of any subscription-based journal. GBFR is fully committed to the Open Access Initiative and will provide free access to all papers as soon as they are published.
