

Regynald Washington Masters in Global Hospitality Management
Cecil B. Day School of Hospitality
Robinson College of Business
Georgia State University

Start Date: Fall Semester 2024 (flexible start August 1 - 12)

Areas of specialization required: Hospitality Analytics, Financial Analysis

Rank: Visiting Lecturer

Qualification:

The preferred candidate will have strong teaching skills in quantitative areas of hospitality on the undergraduate and graduate levels; Prior teaching experience required which can include teaching as a doctoral student. Evidence of strong quantitative research skills necessary including at least two academic conference/journal publications. A minimum of three years hospitality industry experience preferred particularly in hotels and/or foodservice including industry consulting firms. PhD in Hospitality or related discipline required. ABDs considered with projected completion date within academic year 2024-2025.

Georgia State University is located in the hub of a thriving hospitality community and is one of the nation's Top 10 most diverse universities. Interested applicants please send current CV to: Dr. Debby Cannon at dfcannon@gsu.edu who will also address inquiries prior to applying. Preference will be given to applications received by April 22.

Georgia State University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex (including sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or pregnancy), national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or protected veteran status in its programs, services, activities, employment, and/or admissions. Additionally, the University promotes equal employment opportunity for women, minorities, persons with disabilities and veterans through its affirmative action program.